

OEM Solutions

Advantage Industrial Automation provides OEMs, industrial end-users, and systems integrators by adding value to the leading products in factory automation and controls.

OEM Solutions

When it comes to providing industrial grade products and technical service, Advantage Industrial Automation, is your best choice for industrial automation solutions.

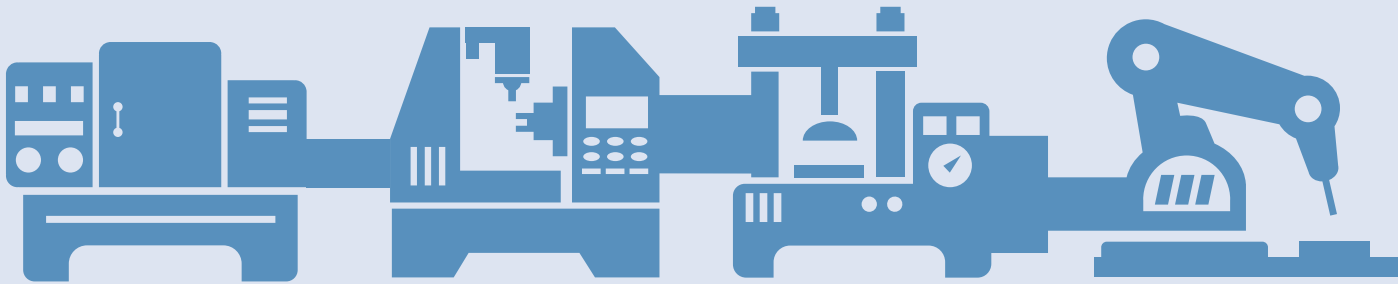

We serve OEM customers with products from the industry's leading manufacturers. We also provide the technical know-how to support the most complex industrial control and automation applications.

As an OEM, you are facing market volatility, new technologies, increased competitive pressures, and growing environmental and safety concerns. In such rapidly changing conditions, plants and machines will have to be better connected, safer, more flexible, efficient, and provide cost savings.

We can help you face these challenges. Advantage Industrial Automation has partnered with the best manufacturers in the business. Through these partnerships, we ensure access to an extensive range of in-stock products for everyday use or emergencies. We are committed to make sure our customers have access to the latest in industrial automation products.

Enclosures • Industrial Computing • Machine Safety • M

Network Connectivity • Operator Interface & HMI • Video S

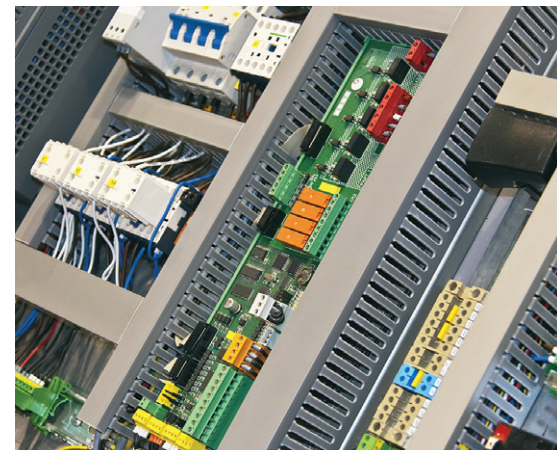

Technical Services

Advantage personnel have over 200 years of combined technical service experience in the electrical and automation industry. We solve our customers' problems by adding value to the leading products in factory automation and control.

Industrial automation technology has advanced at a rapid pace. With the constantly changing landscape and introduction of technologically advanced products used on the plant floor, device-level and component networks, and manufacturing execution systems, you need not only quality products, but also the knowledge to make them work.

We are staffed with automation and control professionals who possess the project management, design, programming, and start-up experience needed to effectively meet our customer's needs.

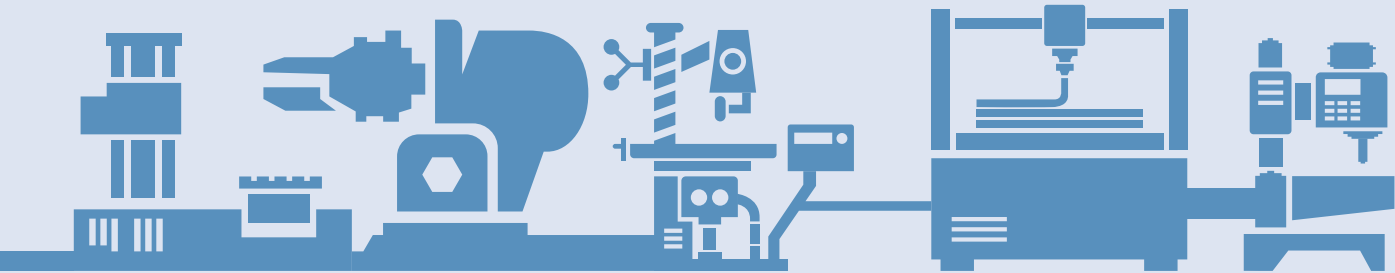

We can extend the life of your exist

Building machines in a world of ever changing products and technologies is a tough business. With our wide range of products and technical expertise, we can configure many applications to maximize value and keep machinery applications on the cutting edge of technology.

otion Controls • Industrial Controls • PAC & PLC Control

Surveillance/Remote Monitoring • SCADA • Drives • Sensors

As your automation source and service provider, Advantage Industrial Automation is uniquely positioned to better understand your business as well as the specific technical requirements and quality standards. Our solutions combine industry-leading technology, sound engineering principles, and exceptional customer focus.

Today's technology offers innovative ways to approach automation and control issues. To take advantage of technology, you need a partner who understands how to apply it to your needs. Advantage has an expert group of professionals dedicated to understanding your business needs as well as finding the best solutions. Staying on the cutting edge of the latest advances in automation and control products is our mission and your advantage in enterprise automation.

CORPORATE HEADQUARTERS/GEORGIA BRANCH

4775 River Green Parkway Duluth, GA 30096 770.447.4474

KENTUCKY BRANCH

2307 River Road Louisville, KY 40206 502.810.9144

FLORIDA BRANCH

1907 N U.S. Highway 301 Suite 140 Tampa, FL 33619 813.575.3900

Additional locations in ALABAMA, NORTH CAROLINA, SOUTH CAROLINA and TENNESSEE.

See our website (www.advantageind.com) for contact information.

